YOUR VOICE. YOUR QUESTIONS. YOUR LEARNING.

At Edcamp, YOU help shape the day!

Join educators, school leaders, parents, and others committed to creating an Ideal Learning Experience for every learner for a morning of conversation, collaboration, and shared learning.

Edcamp is participant-driven. There are no predetermined presentations or lengthy slide decks. Participants help identify the topics that matter most to them, and the day's conversations are built around those interests, questions, challenges, and successes.

WHAT MAKES THIS AN MCL EDCAMP?

Our conversations will focus on an important question:

How can we create learning experiences that are customized to meet the needs of every learner?

Whether your school is just beginning to explore Mass Customized Learning (MCL), is well along its journey, or you simply want to learn more about creating learner-centered educational experiences, you belong in the conversation.

WHY JOIN US?

Together, we will:

LEARN

Create a meaningful professional learning experience shaped by participants.

CONNECT

Build collaboration among schools, educators, parents, and others interested in transforming learning.

GROW

Strengthen the CCL Collaborative Network by developing new relationships and sharing ideas, resources, and experiences.

EXPAND

HELP US BUILD THE DAY!

During registration, we'll ask:

"What would YOU like to talk about at the MCL Edcamp?"
